KEY ELEMENTS OF A COMPETITIVE APPLICATION

Prepared by IIE's University Placement Services Division, July 2015

Application:

Take care to answer all questions to the best of your ability.

Make sure that you spell your name correctly and in English; do not use diacritical markings, if you only have one name, use the last name field.

Make sure that the information you added into the online application text boxes displays completely. (You should not need to scroll down to see all the information. If you do, then you have entered too much information. What does not display in the text box will not be viewable.)

On page 2, list all post-secondary schools attended—not just schools at which a degree was awarded—and list in order of those most recently attended.

On page 2, list all academic, professional, and personal awards and honors achieved.

On page 4, a clearly articulated study objective or academic goal statement is an important component of your application. This is your opportunity to state what you want to study and to achieve. Be specific.

On page 5, your personal statement provides you with an opportunity to pull all the pieces of your dossier together. You can both highlight your strengths and address any inconsistencies or perceived weaknesses. This statement is about you and your experiences (Who are you?)

On page 6, please feel free to insert your resume or a CV (curriculum vitae)

On page 7, feel free to scan in copies of your student transcripts. (Please note carefully, official transcripts prepared by the schools you attended will still be needed.)

On page 10, University Preferences, you can indicate your school preferences and share any other pertinent data that someone handling your placement, if you are selected, should know.

Letters of Reference:

IMPORTANT! Letters of References should ideally be from people who know you well in a professional capacity. It is recommended to focus on work contacts OR on academic contacts. Depending on what is weighed more significantly by the admissions committee—your work experience or your academic background. This will vary by your field of study.

Referees should be able to speak to your strengths.

Referees should be chosen so that they say different things about you.

Note, in some educational systems the reputation of the referee is important. However, in the U.S. this is not a consideration if the referee does not know you well.

We recommend that your referees complete the online reference letter. You may register them as part of the online application process. However, if they cannot complete the online reference letter, all supplemental forms, including the letters of reference are accessible at <http://foreign.fulbrightonline.org/fulbrightpage.html>

Academic Transcripts and Translations (sometimes referred to as mark sheets or degree statements):

Transcripts must list all courses and/or subjects taken and the grades received. Ideally they should indicate when the course was taken. Most transcripts contain a 'legend' which will explain what an 'excellent' grade, a 'passing' grade, etc. is. (Please note a description of the course is NOT required.)

You must submit official transcripts. In other words, they must be certified by the school, e.g. the Registrar's Office or Controller of Examinations (Official transcripts may NOT be certified by a professor or other legal authority) and be forwarded in an envelope that has not been opened by the student.

Transcripts should be in the official language of the country unless the school provides an official transcript in English. If a translation is necessary, it can be issued by the school or by a qualified translator. Translations must be literal—not interpretive.

Note, for those individuals studying in Europe and completing a Bologna-compliant degree, a diploma supplement in English is also needed.

Test Scores

Official test scores should be sent from the testing institution. An 'examinee' copy may be used while awaiting "official" scores, but eventually universities will need "official" test scores.

When taking the test, please make sure to indicate AMIDEAST as a test recipient

For TOEFL and all GRE exams, the code is 5027.

For GMAT exams, the code is 5RG-7V-87.

For IELTS, select AMIDEAST from the 'Professional Bodies' listing.

Note: TOEFL and IELTS scores are valid for two years. GRE and GMAT scores are valid for five years
